Dear Kimlong,

Below are summary of my academic background and work experience. Regards,

Mr. Kem Sothorn joined RUPP as a lecturer in Department of Environmental Science since 2006. He responsible for teaching three courses (1) Agricultural Systems, (2) Research Design and Methodology, (3) Problem Based Learning. He has also been a researcher for Poverty, Agriculture and Rural Development Program of Cambodia Development Resources Institute (CDRI). His research experiences mainly cover the areas of Agriculture Development namely – agricultural value chain analysis, agricultural policy, agricultural credit, and rural livelihood improvement. In addition he has been involved in various other social development research such Poverty Study, Socio-Economic Research, the Youth Situation Analysis and Social Protection. His previous experiences included several evaluation researches as well as conducting baseline assessment on rural development project for various IOs and LNGOs.

Mr. Kem Sothorn received BSc in Agronomy from Royal University of Agriculture in 2004 and MSc. in Agriculture and Rural Development from Asian Institute of Technology in 2006. He is now pursing his PhD study at the University of Queensland, Australia and expect to finished by July-2017.

Kem Sothorn, MSc.
Lecturer/Researcher.
Poverty, Agriculture and Rural Development
Royal University of Phnom Penh/ CDRI

E-mail : sothorn_kem@yahoo.com & sothorn@cdri.org.kh
Phone/Fax: (023)880-734
Mobile : (855)12-697-664

See More from Chhinh Nyda